IN CofC GOLF TOURNAMENT

Local banker scores hole-in-one

RECORD-BREAKER--One of those rare, rare golfing achievements took place last Wednesday at the fifth annual Chamber of Commerce Invitational golf tournament when Doug Mahre (center-above) manager of Wells Fargo Bank, scored a hole-in-one on the par 3, second hole.

Jerry Bernstein, (left-above) co-owner of Wheel-Away Cycle Center at 402 E. Hamilton, presented a 10-speed bicycle to Mahre for his achievement. Mahre also was awarded a putter by the pro shop at Riverside Golf Course where the CofC tournament was held.

It was the first time a hole-in-one has been scored in the five CofC tournaments that have been held, according to Joe Cuffaro, (right) of Winchester Paint, chairman of this year's event, the largest ever. Cuffaro said 90 golfers participated and 91 dinners were served.

Local merchants donated door prizes for the tourney at the steak barbecue held after the golfing was completed.

Trophy winners for the tournament were:

Low gross: member Phil Luoto; guest, Brian Bennert. Low net: member, Al Blaine; guest, Brian Bennert; Calloway: Roger Malcom, Wayne Couch. Highest score: member, Joe Giest (148); guest, Reg Berti (147); Most strokes on one hole: member, Joe Giest (13); guest, Reg. Berti (12);

Hole-in-one: Doug Mahre; Closest-to-the-hole (12); member, Don Hebard; guest, R. Malcom. Longest drive (18th): Charlie Larson.

School trustees act on budget Thursday

What is expected to be the last meeting of the fiscal year for the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, as well as the last meeting for three of the trustees, Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, Mrs. Judy Ruscigno and Ralph Steinberg, will take place this Thursday, June 14. The board meets at 7 p.m. in the administration office.

Highlighting this last meeting will be the presentation of the tentative budget of $15,136,000 for the next fiscal year as drafted by A. O. Bachelor, district business manager.

In his memo to Superintendent Jim D'Avis, Bachelor noted that this is the first of three budgets that require board action. The second (publication) budget is set for July 12 and the final budget on August 1.

Dr. Bachelor also explains that two parts of the budget, bond interest and state school building fund are developed by the county office of education and are not yet available.

Bachelor also points out that S.B. 90 this year will affect the setting of the tax rate which was $4.39 this year and is expected to be $4.012 in 1974.

Other items on Thursday's agenda involve the sale of obsolete equipment by the district, the opening of roof repair bids and action by the board with respect to the additions at Forest Hill and Rosemary schools.

PERMITS REACH $8.8 MILLION

Building record looms

If the present pace continues, a new building record may be set in Campbell for the calendar year, according to Wally Byron, city building official.

At the end of May, the building permit total had reached $8.8 million, more than $1 million ahead of the same period last year and almost $3 million ahead of 1971, the year the present record was set.

In 1971, the permits totalled $18.4 million. Last year the total was $14.3 million.

In May this year, permits totalled $1,898,562 compared to $296,837 for the same month last year.

And of the total figure, two permits accounted for $1,656,686.

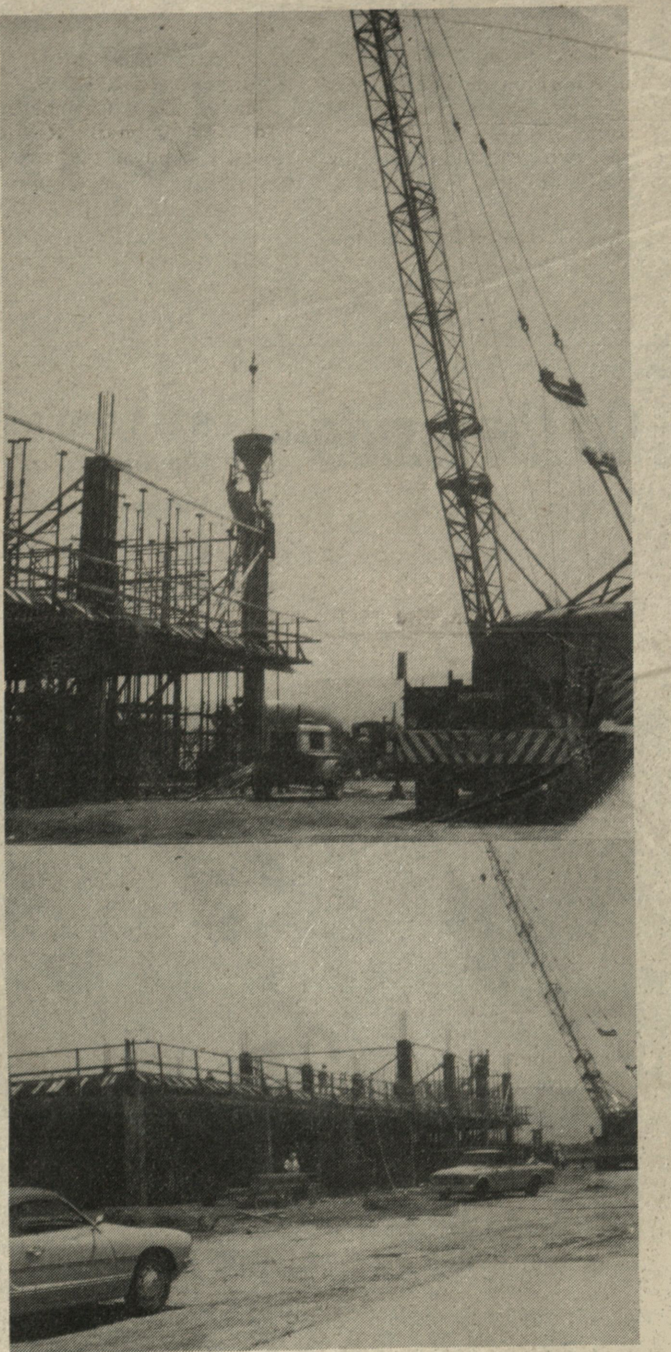
A 77-unit apartment complex at 501 W. Hacienda for D & D Properties accounted for $936,186 of the total and a two-story office building (see adjoining picture) at 700 W. Hamilton (adjacent to the expressway) for Carl N. Swenson Co., came to $720,500.

The Swenson building is planned so that a third floor may be added when needed. The offices will be used for data processing operations. The two stories have 37,332 square feet in floorspace.

In May there was one permit for a single family residence issued to Erwin Weyhe at 325 Leigh Ave. and Elmo Pardini was issued a building permit for a commercial building at 900 Dell Ave. for $34,500 for the other new construction during the month. There have been 95 single family permits issued this year for $2,025,905.

First Christian Church at 1975 Pollard Road was issued a permit for a classroom addition for $31,062 and C & P Profiling took out a permit for an industrial addition for $58,520.

There were nine permits for swimming pools in May for $31,718, making 23 for the year to date for $94,818. Permits for additions and alterations in May came to $104,336 and two permits for signs totalled $3,200.



ONE PERMIT FOR $720,500

AFTER INTERVIEWS WITH 15 APPLICANTS

City Council to appoint three Planning Commissioners this Saturday

Three new planning commissioners are scheduled to be named by the City Council this Saturday, June 16, following interviews with the 15 applicants who have filed for the vacancies that now exist.

Interviews will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday and will be completed after the luncheon break.

The three vacancies were created by the recent resignations of Milton H. Howe, Carl W. Larson and Fred E. Long. Larson was transferred by Pacific Telephone to Washington, Howe and Long cited personal reasons for their resignations.

Larson's term of office would have expired this August while the terms of Howe and Larson would have run to August, 1974.

The appointments by the Council will be to fill the unexpired terms. But in the case of Larson's successor, city officials indicated, that the extension in August would be an automatic one.

The slate of 15 "candidates" is the largest list of applicants for the planning commission positions in this city's history. The occupations of the applicants are varied, ranging from a law student at Santa Clara University to a painting contractor and including two teachers, a swimming coach and three real estate agents.

The need for filling the vacancies as soon as possible was emphasized on Monday, June 4, when the regularly scheduled meeting of the Planning Commission had to be cancelled for lack of a quorum.

The three commissioners who will be officially named this Saturday afternoon will participate in their first Planning Commission meeting next Monday, June 18.

The deadline for receiving applications was last Friday.

The applicants are:

Ronald Perdue, 775 Latimer Ave., Campbell High teacher; Carl E. Samuelson, 2174 S. Abbey Lane, accounting manager, Standard Brands; James A. Phillips, 1500 E. Campbell, real estate broker, American Realty; Thaddeus (Ted) Joseph Kledzik, 916 Loyalton, administrator, Four-Points Rents;

BY 3-2 VOTE OF CITY COUNCIL

Park program gets $113,000

A divided City Council on Monday night at a public hearing decided that the federal revenue sharing funds received from January 1, 1973 to June 30, 1973, should go for park development.

It was estimated that $113,414 will have been received by June 30.

Under federal regulations, a report on the use of this year's funds must be filed by June 30. However, the city has two years to allocate the $230,000 that was received last year.

City Manager Bob Stephens had submitted a list of possible capital outlay uses for the money totalling $1,135,000.

It was from this list that the Council by a 3-2 vote selected park development for the top priority.

Under the council ruling, the second phase for Rincon Park development would get $80,000 plus $8,914 (to round off the estimate) and Los Gatos Creek would benefit to the tune of $24,500.

Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Councilman Ralph Doetsch opposed the giving top priority to the park area. They maintained that the money could be used on smaller items for a greater service to the citizens.

A motion by Doetsch to allocate $10,280 for the annual payment on the fire engine was not seconded and Doetsch's motion (Chamberlin had to relinquish the gavel to second it) to allocate $22,000 for the library meeting room lost 3-2.

Vice-Mayor Norm Paul and Councilman Rusty Hammer and Bill Podgorsek stuck to the park program throughout the discussion maintaining that the people had been waiting for the park program since 1967. Paul also emphasized that there was $220,000 in funds in the bank that could be used for some of the other projects.

$4.8 MILLION ON THE LINE

City Council starts budget study sessions next Monday

Following the pattern of previous years, the first public hearing on Monday night on the preliminary $4.8 million budget for 1973-74 for the City of Campbell at the City Council meeting was a routine affair. Neither members of the audience nor councilmen had comments to make on the massive 240-page fiscal document that had been prepared by City Manager Bob Stephens.

The comments will come later at the budget study sessions that were set at the meeting, starting next Monday, June 18, in the conference room in the city hall at 7:30 p.m. (The Planning Commission meets in the council chambers that night.)

The preliminary budget is scheduled for adoption on Monday, June 25, at the last regular council meeting of this fiscal year.

At Monday's hearing, three other budget study sessions, in addition to next Monday, were set: Wednesday, June 20; Friday, June 22, and Saturday, June 23, all in the council chambers.

At next Monday's session, the council will review the allocations recommended for the council, city manager, city clerk, finance and treasurer. Most of the items on the agenda are rated as pretty much non-controversial by city officials.

But indications indicate that won't be the case at the other sessions.

On Wednesday, June 20, for example, should be a "biggy." The recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee will be considered as well as the budgets for the advisory commissions, as well as the Chamber of Commerce.

The police and fire department budgets will also be scrutinized.

The final budget will be adopted in August when the assessment figures and closing balances will be finalized. The tax rate also will be set then.

Three new commissioners face 'doubled-up' agenda

Three new planning commissioners are expected to be on hand next Monday, June 18, when the Planning Commission holds a "doubled-up" meeting. The City Council is scheduled to appoint the three on Saturday afternoon after interviewing 15 applicants for the positions.

The first meeting of the month had to be continued because of a lack of a quorum.

Among the items on the agenda are plans for a warehouse/office for Carl Travis at 533 Union Ave. and plans submitted by Standard Oil for a third bay at the gas station at 3405 S. Winchester on West Parr.

Larry Raiche is seeking approval of plans for an industrial building at 599 McGlincey Lane. He is also asking for a variance.

The Commission is also scheduled to take up again the request of Gold Seal Realty for a variance so that the conversion of a residence into an office will be allowed.

The applicant is represented by Bill Smeed, San Jose attorney and former Campbell councilman and mayor.

Ramon R. Torres is requesting a zone change from R-1 to P-0 (professional office) at 480 N. Carlyn and the many-times continued hearing on the request of Charles T. Marotta for the conversion of a residence into an office at 145 Dillon is also scheduled again Monday.

Another sign appeal goes back for further study

One appeal from a Planning Commission ruling was upheld by the City Council on Monday night while another appeal was referred back to the Planning Commission to see if a "compromise" of some sort could be worked out.

A request by Bell Savings & Loan Association to change the wording on the free standing pole sign of Freddie's Liqors at Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Road was denied by the Planning Commission. The savings and loan firm has purchased Freddie's and will use a portion of the building and lease back part of it to Freddie's.

Bell Savings appealed the decision claiming that just the wording of the non-conforming sign was being changed and not the sign itself.

After hearing the pros and cons, the Council voted to refer the matter back to the Commission to see what could be worked out.

However, in the other appeal case, the Council by a unanimous vote upheld the Planning Commission denial of a use permit for S. Chinazzo to allow the conversion of a single family residence into an office at Kennedy Avenue and Winchester.

In another action, the City Council deferred for 30 days the demolition of the old engineering building to allow time to check out the possibilities of whether the building could be used as headquarters for the West Valley Hiking Club.

Wally Byron, building official, had estimated that it would cost $56,000 to bring the building up to code.

However, Bill Wren, public works director, impressed by the hiking club activities, suggested that perhaps the cost could be lowered because it would be a different type of use than previously anticipated.

Councilman Rusty Hammer questioned this fluctuation in cost, noting that the cost had been a stumbling block for the Youth Commission.

THEY WON'T LET HIM OFF---In an unprecedented action on Monday night, the City Council refused to accept the resignation of HENRY (HANK) CARY from the Parks and Recreation Commission of which he has been a member since 1968.

Cary has been selected by IBM to attend a year-long institute in Burlington, Vermont, and regretfully submitted his resignation from the Commission. He noted that he would be a "long distance commuter at best." He added that he enjoyed the work and would miss seeing some of the ideas come to fruition, especially the Rincon Park development and Los Gatos Creek area. "I fully intend to re-apply for the Commission upon completion of my Vermont assignment," Cary wrote.

But that won't be necessary.

By unanimous action (with Cary's fellow park commissioners concurring), the councilmen decided that Commissioner Cary was a valuable asset to the Commission even in absentia for a year and that the P&R Commission could function with six members in a pinch.

Cary, who was present at the Council meeting, said he was appreciative and flattered by the confidence shown by the councilmen.

CALL DEBBIE---Debbie Havens, director for the Chamber of Commerce Youth Employment Service (YES) will be on hand full-time daily to take calls from prospective employers beginning Thursday morning, June 14. Debbie can be reached at 378-1666 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

West Valley College staff to get 6.5% salary hike

West Valley College's certificated and classified staffs received a 6.5 per cent salary increase, effective July 1, at the Thursday evening governing board meeting.

The trustees on a 5-2 vote supported the superintendent's recommendation that 6.5 per cent was an equitable increase to meet the cost of living and to additionally compensate for the quality and quantity of the work load at the college.

Supt. James P. Hardy noted that West Valley College's student load being carried by the teachers is one of the heaviest in the state and has increased over the past few years. He further added that in spite of this increased load, West Valley transfer students do as well or better as other juniors and seniors when they attend a four-year institution.

Trustees Robert A. Sorensen and William H. Cilker favored a 5 per cent cost of living increase. Initially they were joined by Foster Lopes and Donald Lindstrom. But Lindstrom noted that the cost of living is spiraling today and that he did not believe 6.5 per cent was out of line as long as the district was financially able to support it. Lopes noted that the teachers should be compensated for their heavier work load.

ASK FOR 8.1

Initially the faculty had sought 8.1 per cent and the classified staff had sought an 8 per cent increase.

In addition the governing board approved a 75 per cent hour increase for hourly instructors; moved the summer school pay factor up to 90 per cent of the regular faculty schedule, which will be paid on a pro-rated basis; approved the payments of fringe benefits for staff members on maternity leave for a maximum of six months; approved a night shift differential of $20 additional per month for classified employees who work 15 or more of the 37½ hour work week after 10 p.m. and before 6 a.m.; and granted a 6.5 per cent increase in salary to the assistant superintendents for education and finance.

The board declined to expand the current fringe benefit package. Both groups had asked for a multi-phasic rider to the current Blue Cross plan and the faculty had additionally sought an orthodontia rider to the dental plan.

The classified and certificated staffs had additionally proposed that the district adopt a continuation plan of fringe benefits for retiring employees. Hardy thought the idea had great merit and recommended that an ad hoc committee be formed, composed of faculty, classified and administration to explore this possibility. A progress report on this item is expected in November with a final report to come in January, 1974.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions Thursday evening the governing board:

Approved a student wage proposal increasing wages from $1.65 - $2.20 an hour to a minimum of $2 and a maximum of $2.50 per hour, a proposal which came from the outgoing student body president, John Brown.

Approved a board policy

OUR TOWN

by JoAnn Zoller

Traditionally high school year books are dedicated to teachers or administrators. This year CAMPBELL HIGH SCHOOL students broke with tradition and dedicated their annual, Oriole 1973, to an equally well-liked and respected personality on campus. DAUSA L. (Red) BELTZ, head custodian.

Their words tell it all: "Mr. Dausa L. "Red" Beltz has served as head custodian at Campbell High for the last eighteen years. His recognizable trademark is his straw hat, which is replaced about every five years or so.

He has seen two sons graduate from Campbell and has a daughter who currently attends school here, and he is an active member of his church and the community.

The work of a head custodian involves handling many emergencies, such as food fights and senior pranks, and he receives little recognition for his duties, although he is a very valuable part of the school.

It is with great appreciation and respect that we dedicate the 1973 edition of the Oriole to a first-class public servant, Mr. Dausa L. Beltz.

COLLEGE GRADS

Congratulations are in order for several Campbell students who recently graduated from colleges and universities across the country.

Two Campbell area students attending the California State College at Sonoma received their bachelor of arts degrees June 1. They are CAROL MILLER, a sociology major and RANDY NOLEN, who received his degree in filmmaking.

Editorial

City tax

The Campbell Press is well aware that the current property tax levied by the City of Campbell is less than 12% of the total bill that a property owner within the city limits pays.

So The Press has been criticized recently for confining its editorial comments to the city tax and budget.

Critics rightfully point out that the city represents only a minor cog in the tax-levying machinery.

Education (elementary through junior college) takes more than 60% of the tax dollar and the county collects about 23%.

So why "pick on the poor old city", our critics ask.

To begin with we are not "picking on the city".

As a matter of fact that type of criticism is one of the best arguments that can be presented for "home rule" as opposed to regional governmental control.

We recognize that the elementary, high school and junior college district taxes take more than 60-cents of each $1 of property tax.

But the fiscal positions of the various school districts have become so complicated and all-encompassing that we candidly admit we don't know where to start.

We have long maintained somewhat facetiously that the school district budgets have been made complicated purposely so that only professionals understand them.

And, at times, we wonder about them.

And the county budget likewise is so huge and cumbersome that it is difficult to pinpoint salient points.

Thus we come to the budget and tax for the City of Campbell.

Although the city has expanded greatly in recent years (the budget for next year has been estimated at $4.8 million), it is still possible for the average citizen taxpayer to keep on top of it and understand the situation.

That is what we mean by a "home rule" operation.

As a close observer of the city scene for many years, we feel that we have become quite knowledgable of the city's financial picture.

So, if we concentrate our fire, so to speak, on the city's budget and tax rate, it is because we are convinced that we have a better understanding of the municipality than another single tax-paying agency.

As a case in point, when it is recommended that the current city's operating tax rate remain at $1.30 per $100 assessed valuation, we suggest that it is actually a tax increase.

True the current tax rate for operation is $1.30 but 12-cents of that figure was specified for a special purpose, completing the engineering wing at the city hall.

We submit that, otherwise the current tax rate would have been $1.18. There is nothing wrong, in our opinion, in adding a special tax for a specific purpose, if the purpose is essential.

We object, however, to "absorbing" a special tax as put in the total rate without specifying why.

OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

COMMENTS RECEIVED FROM READERS ABOUT THE new format of The Campbell Press have been varied to say the least.

And, surprisingly, the opinions have been pretty evenly divided.

Much more so than we had anticipated.

All of us here at The Press were aware that the change from standard newspaper size to tabloid was a drastic one to make.

And for sure we knew that the readers would be aware that a change had taken place.

That's not always the case.

Sometimes when changes have been announced with extensive fanfare and publicity, we have been hard-pressed to figure out what the change was.

But you couldn't miss what the change was in The Press.

After all, the pages were just half the size you have been used to.

ONE OF THE READERS WHO DISLIKED THE NEW style claimed, in effect, that The Press was short-changing their readers by publishing the "smaller" paper.

She maintained, for that reason, we should reduce the price per copy.

We explained that in the tabloid edition last week there were more column inches of news stories than any other issue this year except the progress edition.

But our caller remained unconvinced.

The price per copy still was too high, she emphasized.

She added that she gets a weekly paper by mail from southern California that runs 20 to 30 pages per issue and she only pays a dime for it.

We submitted to our friend that the number of pages published by a newspaper is regulated by the amount of advertising the newspaper carries...More advertising...more paper...It's just that simple.

We quickly added whenever The Press warrants a 30-page paper, we would be happy to give our caller a paper for free.

THEN THERE WAS THE GREAT MIDDLE GROUND, SO to speak.

Sue Miller, information assistant at West Valley College, a pro in the field of journalism, had a sort of equivocal comment on the change-over. It was interesting, she noted, but she had not yet determined whether she liked it or not.

Homer Hyde said he had a somewhat negative reaction to the change. He suggested it might be because he was not used to it.

He added also that over the years he had become accustomed to reading "out-on-the-limb" first and he had automatically looked for it on the left-hand column of the front page.

Now he has to look for it on the inside pages.

Egotistically we appreciated Homer's feeling about "out-on-the-limb" but we also pointed out that there was an index on the front page which designated on what pages the more outstanding features of The Press were to be found...

Including, of course, "out-on-the-limb".

"THE PRUNEYARD AND THE TOWERS ARE OUTstanding assets of Campbell. The residents of this community take justifiable pride in showing them off to visitors.

But when we show off the attractive center, we overlook mentioning how pedestrians are supposed to get to it along Campbell Ave. or why cross-walks end in an unplanted planting strip at Union Ave. or how come people walk in the gutter on the way to the PruneYard.

We have long been convinced that, apparently down the line, not much thought was given as to how a person on foot was supposed to get to the PruneYard.

Those obstacle courses that have developed just could not have been forseen.

Unless the person was sadistically inclined.

Or didn't like pedestrians.

IN LAST WEEK'S ISSUE, WE GRAPHICALLY ILLUStrated some of the main features of the pedestrian obstacle course.

We showed the bush that at the end of the trail after the pedestrian had left the 17 underpass forced the walker into the gutter.

We also showed the crosswalks that end at the unplanted planting strip where the pedestrian has two choices; (1) either plow through the dirt or (2) stay in the gutter.

We had mentioned the problem before in this column so we were aware that quite a few people were frustrated by the situation.

We make no claims of having any expertise on the matter but it seems to us that the bush should be eliminated first. That would allow the pedestrian after coming out of the underpass to cut through the planting strip into the PruneYard parking lot for TowersII.

Stepping stones could be placed in the planting strip to facilitate the person getting through.

Of course a sidewalk instead of the planting strip from the underpass to the crosswalk and signals is another idea.

And those crosswalks that go nowhere...

Why not have stepping stones in the planting strip at that location also?

IT ALSO HAS BEEN SUGGESTED THAT IF UNION AVE. was "extended" across Campbell Ave. into the PruneYard, it would eliminate a lot of twisting and turning that takes place now.

Now a person on Union Ave. who wants to go to the PruneYard has to first make a right turn onto Campbell Ave. Then a few yards farther on, he crosses two lanes to make a left turn at the PruneYard entry.

It seems to us it would be much simpler for the person, if Union Ave. was cut through to go into the PruneYard at the signal at Campbell Ave.

There will be those around who will snidely suggest that our field is journalism and not traffic engineering.

And we shouldn't try to mix 'em.

They are right, of course.

On the other hand, maybe our solutions are too simple?

That will never do.

IN THIS COLUMN RECENTLY WE CALLED ATTENtion to the feature story about Lester E. Lafferty, a former publisher of The Campbell Press, that appeared in the Ashlund (Oregon) Daily Tidings.

We acquired The Press from Lafferty back in 1956. The story in the Oregon paper called attention to Lafferty's activities as a student at Southern Oregon College. The 77-year-old former newspaperman was running for editor of the student newspaper.

In his note to us, Les reported that he had retired in favor of the two students in the race and then asked: "How do you quit this damn newspaper business once you get the ink in your blood?"

We have now heard from another old-timer in the field, Elsie Rathbun.

Elsie was a linotype operator on The Campbell Press until 1961 when this newspaper went offset more or less eliminating the need for a linotype. Elsie became 71 about then and retired.

About 50 years before her retirement, Elsie learned to handset type in her father's print shop in Minnesota. She learned the linotype and with her husband ran a print shop in Los Gatos for many years before she came with us.

Anyway Elsie has lived in Tres Pinos near Hollister since her retirement.

She called us as soon as she read about Lafferty.

"George", Elsie admonished us, "tell Les that I, too would like to know the answer to his question. I'm 83, six years older than Lafferty, and I've still got ink in my blood. I turn out a weekly column for the Hollister Free Lance."

A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL ANNUAL GOLF TOURNAment of the Chamber of Commerce took place this year under the guidance of Joe Cuffaro.

Highlighting the event was the hole in one that was scored by Douglas W. Mahre, manager of Wells Fargo in town since May 1 when Bob Cowan was transferred to Eureka.

As you know, the odds for making a hole-in-one are incredible.

So one might say that Doug really has made an impact on this community in a short period of time.

But shucks, now what can he do for an encore.

One of Doug's prizes, was a 10-speed bike donated by Bill Paul of Wheel-Away

It is only fair to mention that Mahre was not the only prizewinner at the Wells Fargo branch.

For the second time, Joe Geist was a trophy winner.

Both times for the worst scores.

That's sorta spreading-the-wealth.

"GINNY AWARDS"

San Jose Music Theater handed out their annual "Ginny" Awards on Sunday night. Most of the favorites won with Jeff Risk winning the outstanding supporting actor award for the summer musical, "West Side Story."

"Hello Dolly!" was the big winner as expected with awards going to Peter David Heth, best actor; Steve Schneikert, best supporting actor; Steve Merritt, choreography; and Steve Wathon, scenic artist.

Special mention should be made to resident director George Costa. Music Theater is very fortunate to have such a leader as Costa. The excellent training that he offers the performer goes unchallenged in the community as far as directors are concerned and he is very proud of those who go on into the "business" and many times succeed such as former "Ginny" award winner Mark Lambert. He is currently in a lead role on Broadway in "A Little Night Music." A real tribute to the community. Hail Mr. Costa...

CASTING NEWS

London Green and Angele Gutierrez will essay the major roles in Saratoga's "Fiddler"... Ruth Richard will do the comedy lead in "Desert Song" ...Gary Proost and Robert Griswald into "Our Town" for the Community Players... Emil Luna and Bud Hill are cast in "1776" for Phoenix...

Gloria Stockton, opening this week in "Forum", has copped the lead role in Cabrillo College's summer musical, "Anything Goes."...

Dwight McBride will play John Proctor in "The Crucible" for the Saratoga Youth-Adult Drama Group...Peter David Heth will follow his current role in "Forum" with "Play It Again Sam" for the Staircase Theater in Soquel...

HERE AND THERE

"Applause" had a real stinker at the performance on Friday last. It seems that a dead skunk found its way into the cooling system. An added pleasure for the capacity audience...Special recognition to Mrs. Evelyn McGrath for the fine leadership that she has given the Music Theater Board of Directors...

Also a note to Janis Paige, John Tyers, and Claudia Cummings. They added special glamour to the festivities at the "Ginny" Awards. Miss Paige especially had nice things to say about her experiences in "Dolly!"...a gracious lady.

OPENINGS

"Mother Earth" will open a premiere engagement for the centerplayers at Old Town on Friday night..."Twelfth Night" will be the attraction for the Montalvo Drama Committee on Friday also...Phoenix opens its summer play festival on Saturday with "Forum". For tickets, call 253-9978...

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED

- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

HAPPENINGS

The Northern California Highland Dance Association performing last Saturday was impressive.

The smoke arising from outside the Bruyere Shoppe on Sunday was not cause for a fire alarm, although a bit startling. T'was the Shoppe's first pipe smoking contest, in which contestants attempted to see how long they could keep 3.3 grams of pipe tobacco smouldering. The 17 stem-clenchers were allowed to use two stick matches in lighting their bowls.

Big winner, with a time of 55 minutes at 15 seconds, was Steve Goehring, whose prize was a $75 pipe. Runner-up was Roy Massey, who won a $15 gift order. Ray Gridor was third. Lee Finton, pipe smoking aficionado, won a set of Danish free form handmade pipes in a drawing sponsored by the Shoppe.

Hazelwood students design a real winning chess set

Chess set creates quite a stir

What started as a simple classroom need has blossomed into a useful and creative art project.

It all happened at Hazelwood School in Ray Edward's all boy fourth grade class.

A number of his students are avid chess players, but were having difficulty keeping track of the portable chess board and men furnished for the class by the teacher. Accordingly, they decided to design and build a large size chess set that could be used on the floor of the classroom or on a large board. This, they decided, would eliminate the need of having to continuously be looking for missing chess men.

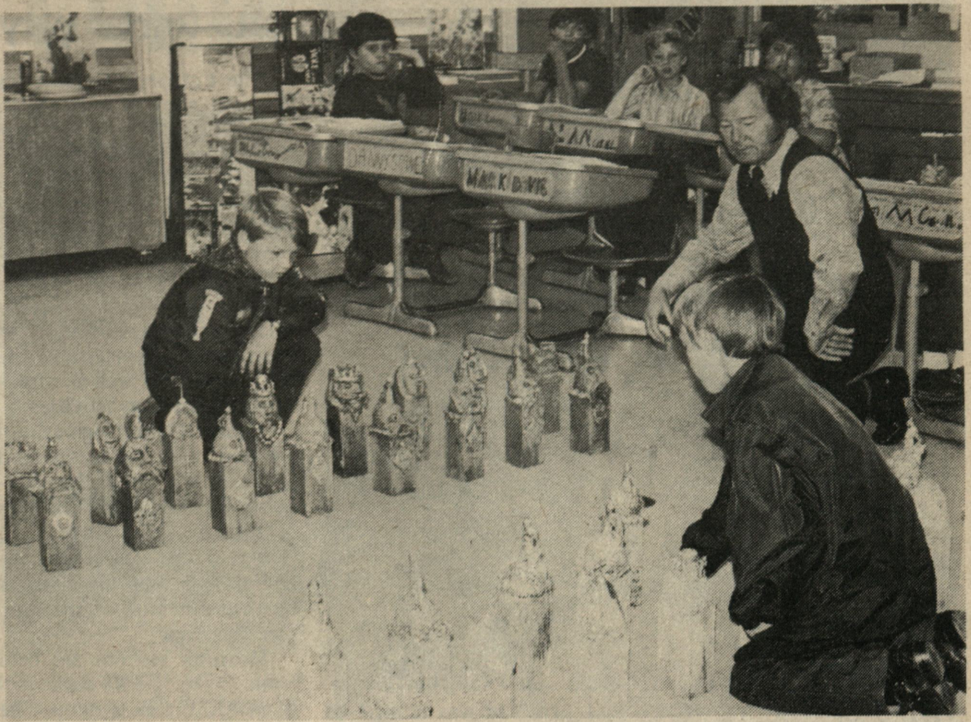
As a class project they developed an organization plan that included the obtaining of 7" four by four blocks of wood, newspaper by the bundles, wheat paste, and paint.

A large plastic garbage can was filled with shredded newspaper and soaked into papier-on the shapes they wanted for the pawns, knights, bishops, king, queens and rooks. They then proceeded to mold the mache into the desired shapes around nails hammered into the end of the wood blocks. Each boy was responsible for one chessman.

After drying, the men were painted either white or green, antiqued and highlighted. The result was an individualized and unique set of chess men for the class to use.

The problem now is to get the chessmen back into use. Since their completion they have been displayed in the lobby of the Department of Education in Sacramento, in the Campbell School District Art Fair at City Hall, and at the County Office of Education.

With summer vacation here the chessmen are now on display in the school's new media center.



ORIGINATORS --- Jeff Seybold and Mark Davis are shown above with their teacher, Ray Edwards. The Hazelwood School fourth grade students originated the idea of the over-sized chess set which has been on display in recent weeks in Sacramento. Originally designed for the student's classroom use, the individually designed set has been "on tour" for most of the time since its completion.

With action resuming in all Divisions for the second half, upsets and surprises have been "the order of the day".

In the Farm Division, undefeated first half champ, Shepardson Insurance was upset by Police Department. The victory "taste" was short lived as Cefalu Mobil edged the Police Department Sunday, 11-10.

FARM DIVISION

In the Farm Division, Campbell Press, celler dweller in the first half, upset first half, second place Doetsch, 4-3, knocked off Campbell Kiwanis, and Sunday made it three straight by whipping Winchester 14-5. A seven run 5th inning was the clincher for first place Campbell Press with Tim Robinson leading the winners.

Round Table Pizza, behind the two hit pitching of Richard Rose KO'ed Kiwanis 4-2 with Matt Young leading the winners with two hits.

In the other Sunday game Campbell Rotary had an easy time with 7th Street Tires 9-3, as Charles Scafe struck out 11.

MAJORS

In the Majors first half champ Moose Lodge was stopped in their first second half outing by Campbell Lumber 3-0. This was only their second loss in 15 games, and ironically, it was Lumber who handed them their first loss on opening day.

In Sunday games, surprising Willow Glen Optimist won their second game in three starts as mighty Mike Sullivan powered and pitched his team to a 1-0 win over the powerful Campbell Lumber team. Mike was masterful in his pitching, giving up two hits while striking out 16. The only run in the game was by...yes, Sullivan again, as he powered a home run.

Optimist win equalled their first half wins with eleven more games to go. Breuners kept pace with Optimist as they clubbed Campbell Plaza 6-0 behind the four hit pitching of Brian Raust. All of Breuners six runs came in the third inning with key hits by Tommy Davis and John Pokriots.

Robins also moved into a first place tie by squeezing by D's Automotive 3-1. Burney Glasauer pitched a four hitter while Jerry Knight led the winners going 2 for 2.

Two major managers and coaches emerged victorious over the minor managers and coaches last Sunday at the Moreland-Campbell field.

Winning pitcher was Paul Bikkle, while Sam Wood and Orval Ney made good efforts for the minors.

TRIPLE PLAY

Starting the week off with an outstanding triple play were the Tigers. The three girls making the play were Laurie Coia, Shiree Dillow and Jody Beireis.

A double play was also made by the Tigers but the Yankees came through and won the game, 8-2.

Other exciting wins last Friday were the Red Sox over first half winners, the Angels. Good pitching by Tammy Wong and a tight defense by the Red Sox won a close game over the Angels.

The Braves turned in a great effort to win against the Tigers on Friday and another rare triple play was made by third base Sheryl Goldsmith unassisted. Sheryl made the catch when the batter flied out, then tagged the runner coming from second and finally stepped on the bag catching the runner on third for the third out.

New PPV on display at Campbell store

With the mounting problem of gasoline prices and supply one Campbell firm may have a partial answer.

The new PPV (people powered vehicle) is on display locally at the Wheel Away Cycle Center in Campbell.

According to owner Bill Paul, there have been many favorable comments on the vehicle since his five models arrived here two weeks ago.

The 110-pound vehicle can attain speeds of up to 20 miles per hour (although it will cruise at a sedate 12 to 15), according to Paul, "and there is no gasoline problem."

The vehicle is powered by pedals which are located on both the driver and passenger sides. (Only the driver has the steering mechanism, however.)

SHORT HOPS

Billed as a good source of transportation for short trips, the PPV "can go anywhere you can ride a bicycle," Paul said.

In Livermore two Avon dealers are already using the new mode of transportation for business, according to Frank Bolton, general manager for Leisure Trans, Inc. (the marketing division of PPV). Over 120 vehicles have been sold in Northern California, he said, since they were introduced in latter March. Cost is $379 plus sales tax and a small freight charge.

SECOND CAR

"Some people have told me they want to sell their second car and get one of these," Paul said, pointing to a lemon yellow model at his 402 Hamilton Ave. store.

The car was designed by two Detroit engineers according to Bolton. Don Gates and Dick Rutheford (noted for developing the fuel injector for the Corvette Engine) were the brains behind the PPV. Financial backer of the new concept, Bolton said, is Pat Patrick, the oil man and head of the Patrick Racing Association.

New developments coming out soon, Bolton said, are a surrey top for the PPV, and a new battery-operated vehicle which will run up to 20 miles on one battery charge. The battery charge will be made on house current.

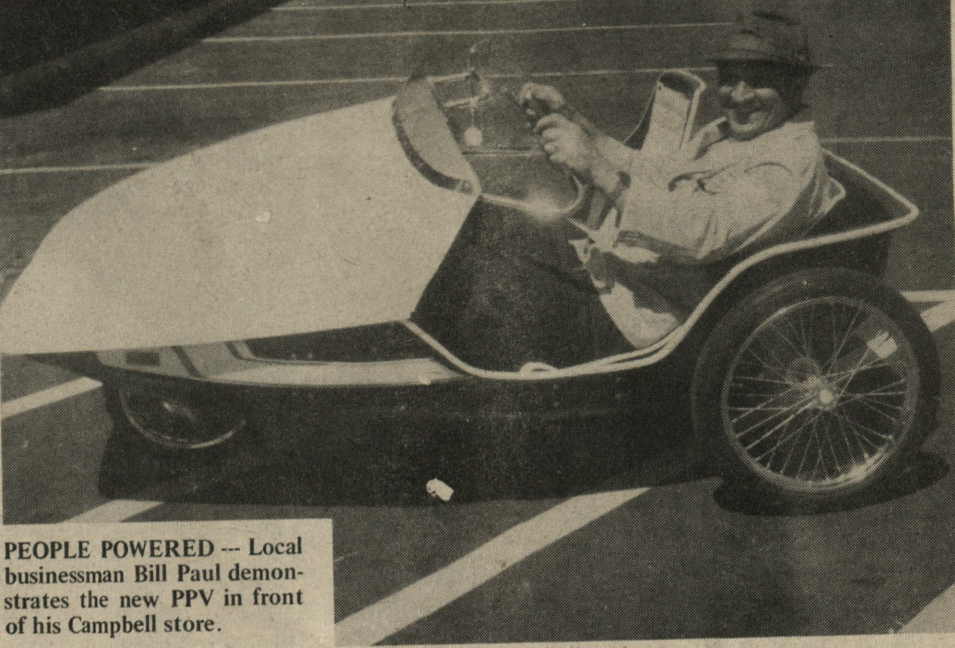
REGULATIONS

There is no driver's license as such required to operate the PPV. Registration rules are similar to those presently covering bicycles. Rules of the road are identical. (You would NOT drive the PPV on any highway.)

Because of its light weight, the new vehicle can be upended and stored in a relatively small space. Servicing is simple, according to Bolton, and the company brochure suggests the owner can do most of this himself, or herself, with the aid of a small tool kit.

If early success is any indication, the third "car" in many local families may well be the little PPV stacked neatly in the corner of the garage.

DEMONSTRATION RIDE--- Two young ladies try out the new People Powered Vehicle. The new vehicle can attain speeds of 20 miles per hour.



PEOPLE POWERED --- Local businessman Bill Paul demonstrates the new PPV in front of his Campbell store.

A trip to the hospital

"I've been in this hospital before."

"I CAN HEAR IT"---Reggie Buell learns how to take a blood pressure reading from R.N. Nancy Welchley. The afternoon kindergarten student from Capri School, and his helper, Shania Balding, were among those touring the Los Gatos Community Hospital recently. Miss Welchley is the pediatrics charge nurse at the hospital.

by Pat Safford

"I've been in this hospital before," one bright eyed youngster explained as she toured the Los Gatos Community Hospital with her class recently. "I was born here," she continued, "and my mother was there at the same time."

The morning and afternoon kindergarten classes from Capri School recently toured the Pollard Road hospital with their teachers Miss Beverly Humes and Mrs. Marilyn Lowry.

One young man tried on a surgeon's gown and mask during the morning outing while a young lady assisted with taking a blood pressure reading with a stethoscope and manometer.

The tours, conducted by Betty Wagner, are designed to alleviate some of the anxiety children have about "going to the hospital."

A visit to the laboratory where blood tests were explained to the children was followed by a trip to the hospital kitchen where chief dietitian Jackie Stookey talked about foods and meal preparation.

Next stop was a trip to the hospital lecture room where a film showing a young child injured in an accident and his experience as he is taken to the hospital, x-rayed and then treated.

The children met and spoke with Miss Nancy Welchley, R.N., pediatrics charge nurse, who told them about how young patients are taken care of.

One of the highlights of the day was next in line as several youngsters got to try out a child-size wheelchair and then trooped back to the lecture room where they were treated to refreshments before they left.

Each class visiting the hospital later makes up a scrapbook of their impressions after the tour.

Off the cuff, however, one afternoon kindergarten student from Capri summed up her feelings in one sentence. "It was neat!" she exclaimed.

Letters to the Editor

HOW ABOUT IT?

Editor:

I was quite interested in your comments about foot traffic along Union and Campbell Avenue as I have traveled this route many times and probably am familiar with every stone and bush en route.

But what irritates me is how can two large apartment complexes be allowed to be constructed in the last couple of years on the north end of Union Avenue without having to install curbs, gutters and sidewalks!

I think our City planners missed the boat on this one.
